

MUSEMENTS
NEW LOS ANGELES THEATRE
Week commencing Monday, July 23rd, Grand Summer Season of Comic Opera by the PYKE OPERA COMPANY.
MR. H. S. STEWART'S ROMANTIC OPERA "Bluff King Hal."
Special new scenery by Forest Seabury. Summer prices—10c, 25c, 50c, 75c.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS
KREGELO & BRESEE
STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS.
Tel. 243. 87 BROADWAY AND SIXTH STREET

HOTELS, RESORTS AND CAFES.
REDONDO BEACH HOTEL.
Now Open for Summer Season 1894.
The Redondo Hotel is situated directly on the Pacific Ocean, 18 miles from Los Angeles (reached by two lines of railroad). New and handsomely equipped; table unsurpassed; fine concrete walks; tennis courts; bathing all the year round; fine fishing; hot and cold water. Inconspicuous lights and gas; halls and lobby heated by steam; finest ballroom in the state; orchestra in attendance; strictly first-class in every particular; the queen of all summer and winter hotels on the coast; guests staying a month or more are furnished free daily transportation over the Redondo Railway to Los Angeles, so they can live at Redondo and enjoy all the advantages of Los Angeles and vicinity. 6 trains each way daily. Hot salt water in tank 80x12 ft. Apply to or address LYNCH & AULL, proprietors, Redondo Beach, Cal.; or to J. K. AULL, Hollister, Calif.

WESTMINSTER HOTEL.
AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN PLANS.
275 Rooms; 15 Suites with Private Bathrooms.
POTTER & JOHNSON, Proprietors.

HOTEL METROPOLE,
AVALON, SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.
Strictly first-class; American plan only; transient rates $2 to $4 per day; special rates by the week. For further information apply to or address F. H. LOWE, agent, 180 West Second St., Los Angeles, Cal.

SIERRA MADRE SANATORIUM
LAMANDA PARK STATION. A FIRST-CLASS health resort with attractive natural surroundings. Hot springs, mineral water, electric light, and all modern appliances. Free carriage from train station. Los Angeles 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Santa Fe route. CHAS. LEE KING, M.D., Sup. W. F. MANSFIELD, Manager.

ARROWHEAD
HOT SPRINGS—THE FAMOUS MOUNTAIN RESORT
HOT SPRINGS—THE FAMOUS MOUNTAIN RESORT
HOT SPRINGS—THE FAMOUS MOUNTAIN RESORT

GRAND VIEW HOTEL
Catalina Island
Catalina Island
Catalina Island

HOLLENBERG
HOTEL CAFE 24 AND 26 W. SECOND ST.
HOTEL CAFE 24 AND 26 W. SECOND ST.

MADEAU HOTEL CAFE
Catalina Island
Catalina Island
Catalina Island

HOTEL LINCOLN
COR. SECOND AND HILL STS.
COR. SECOND AND HILL STS.

THE SOUTHERN
CORNER SECOND AND HILL A NEW AND ELEGANTLY
CORNER SECOND AND HILL A NEW AND ELEGANTLY

SPECIAL NOTICES
ANTIZOMATIC COMPOUND VAPOR BATHS
ANTIZOMATIC COMPOUND VAPOR BATHS

EDUCATIONAL
SCHOOLS, COLLEGES AND PRIVATE TUITION
SCHOOLS, COLLEGES AND PRIVATE TUITION

PROPOSALS
For the construction of a site to contain not
For the construction of a site to contain not

IRON WORKS—BAKER IRON WORKS
650 to 800 Duane Vista St.
650 to 800 Duane Vista St.

EXCURSIONS
With Dates of Departure
With Dates of Departure

STOCKS BONDS AND MORTGAGES
W. H. GARDNER & CO.
W. H. GARDNER & CO.

ATTORNEYS
GARDNER & PIERCE, LAWYERS, OFFICES
GARDNER & PIERCE, LAWYERS, OFFICES

THE MORNING'S NEWS
The Times

THE SENATE MIXED UP IN SUGAR.
Senator Caffery Explains His Attitude.
The Tariff Reform Must Not Go Too Far.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Senate will accede to the request of the House for another conference on the tariff bill and its conferees will return to their meeting with those of the House untrammelled by any specific instructions whatever.

This was the conclusion of the Democratic Senatorial caucus which adjourned sine die a few minutes after 5 o'clock today, after a two-day sitting. While the caucus did not commit itself to any definite line of policy in so many words, the conferees feel with their Democratic colleagues that they understand what a message of their desire and they believe this to be that they shall stand substantially for the Senate bill.

It is not the individual preference of many of the Democratic Senators, but it represents the opinion of most of them, as expressed in the caucus, as to the only practical course open to the Democrats who think the present Congress must pass a tariff bill of some kind, whether it be what they prefer or not. In other words the result of the caucus which has just closed is the reasserting of what was known when the three days' caucus closed last March, that it is impracticable to pass any tariff bill through the Senate which does not meet the demands of the so-called conservative Senators and the Louisiana Senators.

It became evident soon after the caucus convened today that the resolution to send the bill back to conference without instructions was the only course open to the caucus. The other propositions presented were those of Senator Vilas and his friends, one of which provides for instructions to the Senate conferees to recede from the one-eighth of a cent differential on refined sugar without any other change in the sugar schedule and the other to substitute for the present tariff schedule a duty of 45 per cent, ad valorem without any differential, and that of the conservatives to instruct the committee to stand by the Senate amendments.

Senator Vilas and two or three others opposed the latter course and the conservative Senators declared absolutely that they would not accept the Vilas proposition to recede from the differential even though the ad valorem should be increased to 45 per cent, or any other sum within reason. Senator Smith declared such a change meant the shutting down of the refineries in his State, and the throwing of thousands of men out of employment, and a general disturbance of industrial conditions such as he could not contemplate with pleasure and would not accept.

The Louisiana Senators indicated a willingness, as they had done yesterday, to accept the substitution of a 45-per cent duty straight. The proposition did not, however, meet general favor as the wisest course to pursue in view of the sensitivity of the committee had no power of the New Jersey Senator and those who acted with him, and in view of the fact that several Senators, who stated that they agreed with Mr. Vilas in his opposition to the Sugar Trust as a matter of principle, advised in favor of the cessation of all efforts to give formal instructions. There have been few conflicting reports emanated from the Senate today, and it was apparent that each Senator took away an understanding to suit himself as to what implied instructions the conferees were to use. One thing which every one felt assured of was that forty-three votes could be counted on to send the bill back to conference.

The speeches today were generally shorter than those of yesterday and were, as a rule, devoted to advising a strenuous effort to secure party harmony on the basis of a bill which would receive the support of forty-three members of the Senate. Senator Vilas spoke in general terms of the Constitutional right of the House to originate legislation and without denying the concurrent right of the Senate, he suggested that the House privilege in this respect could not be ignored. He cautioned the caucus to avoid all appearance of favoring monopolies in view of the present feeling on the subject.

THE CONTEMPT
Judge Woods Refuses to Quash.
Debs's Cases Continued to Next September.

CHICAGO, July 25.—In the A.R.U. contempt cases today, Judge Woods delivered a brief opinion, formally overruling the motion of the defense to quash the informations. Judge Grosscup announced that he would take no part in the contempt proceedings as the defendants are under indictment in the United States District Court, over which he presides, and some questions of law are to be raised under indictments.

Dist. Atty. McIlhenny announced that Special Counsel Edwin Walker is ill and suggested that the hearing be postponed until Walker shall be able to take charge of it. The court continued the case until September 5.

By order of the court the bail for the four prisoners was reduced from $15,000 to $700 each.

Attorney W. K. Erwin, counsel for the A.R.U. officers, violently assailed the government officers and indirectly the court. Judge Woods showed his suppressed excitement by his trembling hands. Erwin asserted that in cases of injustice the power of the people back of the government reverts to the people. His tall frame quivered with excitement and his voice almost rose to a shriek. Erwin declared the roads had entered into a conspiracy to sustain the Pullman Company in its fight with the employees. The Supreme Court must decide, he said, whether men were not justified in resisting such conspiracy when the courts were silent. "The question is whether the people are sovereign or have delegated all their powers to combinations of wicked men and representatives who are asleep," he declared.

Debs, Howard, Keiler and Rogers, after a lengthy conference with their attorneys, decided to give bail. Since the commitment to jail, the prisoners have refused numerous offers, but because of the continuance of the hearing until September they decided to change their tactics. William Shaskell and William Fitzgerald appeared as bondsmen and the four men were released.

STREET-CARS STONED.
YOUNGSTOWN (O.), July 25.—After a tie-up of several weeks the Youngstown Street-car Company resumed operations today with non-union men. Ties were piled on the track by strikers and the cars were stoned.

FIGHT AT THE GRAND TRUNK YARDS.
CHICAGO, July 25.—Policeman Lash-croft was wounded in a fight at the Grand Trunk yards at Forty-ninth street. The officer interfered and was felled by a volley of stones and coupling-pins. Lindgren fired, probably fatally injuring Alexander Hart and slightly wounding a striker named Donagan. One motor was arrested.

POLITICAL KNIGHTS.
OMAHA, July 25.—The general executive board of the Knights of Labor today completed arrangements for canvassing Nebraska in the interests of the Populist party, and State Workman Allard was sent out to confer with the Populist Central Committee and fix dates for twenty-four rallies during the fall campaign. The general secretary was instructed to carefully prepare a list of all Congressmen who have opposed the Knights of Labor and extra orders will be made to defeat them. Copies of this list were ordered sent to all local assemblies in the United States.

THE CONTEMPT
Judge Woods Refuses to Quash.
Debs's Cases Continued to Next September.

CHICAGO, July 25.—In the A.R.U. contempt cases today, Judge Woods delivered a brief opinion, formally overruling the motion of the defense to quash the informations. Judge Grosscup announced that he would take no part in the contempt proceedings as the defendants are under indictment in the United States District Court, over which he presides, and some questions of law are to be raised under indictments.

Dist. Atty. McIlhenny announced that Special Counsel Edwin Walker is ill and suggested that the hearing be postponed until Walker shall be able to take charge of it. The court continued the case until September 5.

By order of the court the bail for the four prisoners was reduced from $15,000 to $700 each.

Attorney W. K. Erwin, counsel for the A.R.U. officers, violently assailed the government officers and indirectly the court. Judge Woods showed his suppressed excitement by his trembling hands. Erwin asserted that in cases of injustice the power of the people back of the government reverts to the people. His tall frame quivered with excitement and his voice almost rose to a shriek. Erwin declared the roads had entered into a conspiracy to sustain the Pullman Company in its fight with the employees. The Supreme Court must decide, he said, whether men were not justified in resisting such conspiracy when the courts were silent. "The question is whether the people are sovereign or have delegated all their powers to combinations of wicked men and representatives who are asleep," he declared.

Debs, Howard, Keiler and Rogers, after a lengthy conference with their attorneys, decided to give bail. Since the commitment to jail, the prisoners have refused numerous offers, but because of the continuance of the hearing until September they decided to change their tactics. William Shaskell and William Fitzgerald appeared as bondsmen and the four men were released.

STREET-CARS STONED.
YOUNGSTOWN (O.), July 25.—After a tie-up of several weeks the Youngstown Street-car Company resumed operations today with non-union men. Ties were piled on the track by strikers and the cars were stoned.

FIGHT AT THE GRAND TRUNK YARDS.
CHICAGO, July 25.—Policeman Lash-croft was wounded in a fight at the Grand Trunk yards at Forty-ninth street. The officer interfered and was felled by a volley of stones and coupling-pins. Lindgren fired, probably fatally injuring Alexander Hart and slightly wounding a striker named Donagan. One motor was arrested.

POLITICAL KNIGHTS.
OMAHA, July 25.—The general executive board of the Knights of Labor today completed arrangements for canvassing Nebraska in the interests of the Populist party, and State Workman Allard was sent out to confer with the Populist Central Committee and fix dates for twenty-four rallies during the fall campaign. The general secretary was instructed to carefully prepare a list of all Congressmen who have opposed the Knights of Labor and extra orders will be made to defeat them. Copies of this list were ordered sent to all local assemblies in the United States.

WILL GIVE UP ITS CHARTER.
GALESBURG (Ill.), July 25.—The A.R.U. lodge here last night voted to give up its charter. Word to that effect was sent to Debs. The union found no encouragement there.

A PROMISING MILL.

The Smith-Ryan Contest
a Big Card.

Ryan is the Present Favorite in the Betting.

Solly Begins His Training to Meet the "Rosebud."

A Diamond Tournament for Bikes—Regatta
at Hamilton, O.—Eastern Baseball Games and Events on the Turf.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), July 25.—In conformity with the rule governing championship contests, the ring in which the Ryan and Smith fight will take place tomorrow has been enlarged to the regulation size at the expense of much valuable space. Every seat in the amphitheater had been sold and it is now certain that the attendance will be the largest ever recorded at a similar event in this city. Word has been received that the Chicago delegation will arrive tomorrow morning. Betting has taken a slight turn in favor of Ryan, and it is certain that he will enter the ring a favorite. Just who his seconds will be is not known, but it is rumored that Tom West, Ed Alexander and Solly Smith will be behind Smith. The referee will be appointed during the afternoon of the contest, so that there will be no delay at the ringside.

Solly Smith, who is to fight the "Ken-tucky Rosebud," here on August 5, has commenced training. He will occupy quarters vacated by his namesake, "My-torious Billy."

The fight between Tommy Danforth and Harry Finnich is creating more than passing interest.

DANFORTH KNOCKED OUT.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 25.—Tommy Danforth was knocked out in the seventh round at the Twin City Athletic Club this evening by Harry Finnich, the "Arkansas Kid." The fight was a game one from the start to the finish.

EASTERN BASEBALL.

Boston and Brooklyn Split Even on the Two Games.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

BOSTON, July 25.—Two games for one admission was the attraction, which drew over five thousand people to the ball grounds this afternoon. First game: Boston 7, base hits 14, errors 4. Brooklyn 8, base hits 12, errors 0. Batteries—Stevens and Ryan; Kennedy and Winslow.

Second game: Boston 12, base hits 13, errors 1. Brooklyn 6, base hits 13, errors 3.

Batteries—Nichols and Tenny; Earle and Underwood.

Umpire, McQuaid.

NEW YORK-BALTIMORE.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Baltimore 2, base hits 12, errors 2.

New York 7, base hits 7, errors 2.

Batteries—Deek and Farrell; Gleason and Robinson.

Umpire, Emalle.

CLEVELAND-ST. LOUIS.

CLEVELAND, July 25.—Cleveland 12, base hits 14, errors 2.

St. Louis 3, base hits 7, errors 2.

Batteries—O'Connor and Young; Peitz and Brettenstein.

Umpire, Hurst.

WASHINGTON-PHILADELPHIA.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Senators won the first game in the eighth inning.

In the second game Washington led their opponents in batting but inability to bunch their hits assisted by errors lost the game.

First game: Washington 16, base hits 16, errors 4.

Philadelphia 6, base hits 15, errors 8.

Batteries—Mercer and Dugdale; Buckley and Panning.

Second game: Washington 6, base hits 15, errors 2.

Philadelphia 9, base hits 10, errors 2.

Batteries—Sullivan and McGuire; Buckley and Carsey.

CHICAGO-PITTSBURGH.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Chicago 24, base hits 26, errors 4.

Pittsburgh 6, base hits 18, errors 4.

Batteries—Gass and Schriver; Merritt and Colquhoun.

Umpire, Lynch.

RACING AT MARYSVILLE.

Margaret Worth Takes the Opening Event—The Pacing.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

MARYSVILLE, July 25.—There was a large attendance at the races today. The following are the results:

The 2:37 trot: Margaret Worth..... 1 2 3 2 1

Norah D..... 2 3 1 3 2

Luster..... 3 3 1 3 2

Gray Belle..... 5 4 5 4 4

Time 2:37, 2:37, 2:37, 2:37, 2:37.

The pace was run in two divisions. Or-boy winning in the first division; Gertrude G. second, Charles H. third; Victor D. fourth, Cora S. and Mark H. distanced.

The second division was won by Kliekat Maid, Thers second, Ketchum third, Lady Charlotte fourth, Belle fifth, Sur-trice sixth; time 2:19, 2:19, 2:19.

The farmers' race was won by Oryolea, Lilly May second, Lottie L. third, Esther fourth; best time 2:32.

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.), July 25.—The first district meeting of the National Convention held at Valley Falls today nominated H. G. Solomon of Atchison for congress, who already has the popular nomination. Silver was endorsed, at a ratio of 16 to 1.

BRIGHTON BEACH.

The Entry of Addie Rejected—An Outsider Wins.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The stewards were in evidence again today at Brighton Beach for the secretary was instructed not to receive the entry of Addie in the future, as she was sent to the post and unfit to run. In the third race the winner was an outsider, Cora, against whom all sorts of odds were laid.

One mile: Top Gallant won, Vespasian second, Wilmer third; time 1:44.

Six furlongs: Our Maggie won, Rose H. second, Cotnam third; time 1:05.

One mile and a furlong: Rose won, W. D. second, Laurel third; time 1:58.

Six furlongs: Miley won, Best second, Harry Hinkson third; time 1:14.

CANADIAN REGATTA.

Entries in a Series of Races to Take Place at Hamilton, Ont.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

TORONTO, July 25.—For the Canadian regatta on August 5 at Hamilton, the following well-known oarsmen from the United States have been entered, in addition to the Canadians: Junior singles, Charles L. Vandamie, Nautilus Boat Club, Detroit; senior singles, R. Hedley, Vesper, Philadelphia; W. S. McDowell, Delaware, Chicago; M. Newton, Hartford, Ct.; senior doubles, Vesper, Philadelphia; Minnesota; senior fours, New York Athletic Club, Minnesota, Detroit.

This promises to be the most successful regatta ever held in Canada.

The Cleveland Track.

CLEVELAND, July 25.—There was great sport at the Cleveland track this afternoon. The weather was fine, and the track in good condition, and as a result the time was very fast.

The 2:21 class, trotting, purse $3000: Mary Best won the third, fourth and fifth heat and the race; Mahogany won the first and second heat; time 2:13, 2:12, 2:12, 2:13, 2:13, 2:14. Judge Fisher, Rose Leaf, Aunt Della, Gabriel, Elsie, Dan Lowell and David finished in the order named.

The 2:15 class, trotting, purse $3000: Claytons won the fourth, fifth and sixth heat and the race; Frank Agas won the second heat; Pizley Boy won the first and Col. Thornton won the third; time 2:12, 2:12, 2:13, 2:14, 2:13, 2:14. Bull-moat, Baronside, Whiteline, Carrie, Edward, Coast Boy, Wilkes, Alit Russell, Kittle T, Merrimack, Lady H. Rayman, Glenwood, America, S. R., finished in the order named.

The 2:15 class, trotting, purse $3000: Elsie won the second, third and fifth heat; Sixty Six won the first in 2:14, 2:17, 2:15, 2:14. Anna Maco, Lady Nelson and Olive K. were placed as named.

The Saratoga Card.

SARATOGA (N.Y.), July 25.—The attendance at the races today was about on a par with the small number yesterday. The weather was fine, and the track breeze cooling the atmosphere. The track was partly heavy, the result of last night's storm.

One and one-eighth miles: Lamplighter won, Cactus second, Illume third; time 1:58, 1:58, 1:58.

Five furlongs: Pitcan won, Bloomer second, Franklin third; time 1:03.

Seven furlongs: Win won, Tom-tom second, High C. third; time 1:33, 1:33, 1:33.

Six furlongs: Potentate won, Kentigern second, Ruby third; time 1:14.

One mile: The Duke of Madrid won, Play or Pay second; time 1:53. Only two starters.

Five furlongs: Gappa won, Sir Dickson, Jr. second, Haina third; time 1:03, 1:03, 1:03.

Hawthorne Races.

HAWTHORNE, July 25.—Half a mile: Victorious won, Buck Knight second, Roy Tucker third; time 1:03.

Half a mile: Martha Griffin won, Sun Up second, Tremor third; time 1:03.

One mile: Tiro won, Dolly McCoone second, Chiswell third; time 1:54.

One and one-eighth miles: Evanatus won, Orbit second, The Splendid third; time 1:59.

Six furlongs: Empura won, Cora Taylor second, Jack Richellen third; time 1:16, 1:16, 1:16.

Six furlongs: Victoria won, Maryland second, Little Cripple third; time 1:16.

Broken Wrist.

PORTLAND (Me.), July 25.—At Trundy's Reef this afternoon occurred one of the most brutal prizefights ever held in Maine. Tim Sylvester of New York and Sam Conroy of Portland fought for a purse of $100. In the third round Conroy's wrist was broken by a right-hand swing which caught Sylvester's left guard.

Bicycle Tournament.

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.), July 25.—The Springfield Bicycle Club announced $5000 in prizes for its diamond tournament on August 5. The prizes are $1000, $500, $250, $100, $50, $25, $10, $5, $2, $1, $500, $250, $100, $50, $25, $10, $5, $2, $1.

There will be twenty events, including a one-mile international invitation unpaired race, for which a $500 diamond is the first prize.

A WILD SCENE.

A Socialist Deputy Stir Up an ex-Minister of France.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

PARIS, July 25.—(By Atlantic Cable.) There was a wild scene today in the Chamber of Deputies during the debate on anti-anarchist measures.

M. Jaures, a Socialist, moved an amendment to assimilate to anarchists Ministers, Senators and Deputies accepting bribes. This led to a revival of the Panama incidents.

Mr. Jaures attacked M. Ravier, ex-Minister of Finance. The latter declared he had come scathless through the Panama scandal, and he invited Jaures to attack him elsewhere. M. Ravier afterwards sent his seconds to M. Jaures.

M. Jaures' second was eventually rejected by a vote of 254 to 222. Subsequently the Chamber decided the violent passages in the speech should be erased from the minutes. M. Jaures, however, has taken it to be a duel between M. Ravier and M. Jaures is needless.

WON AND LOST.

Prince Hatfield Plays Roulette Longer Than Was Good for Him.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The World's Saratoga special says that Prince Hatfield, C. P. Huntington's son-in-law, has, for some time, played roulette at the Saratoga Club. He was given a high limit and frequently won and lost several thousand dollars.

The Prince was sitting at the table when the Prince upset the table in rage and smashed things generally. At last he was quiet and left the place.

WILL NOT YIELD.

The Mosquito Club Rejects the Advances of Nicaragua.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The World's Port Land Green says that it is reported there that Chief Clarence is preparing to attack the Nicaraguans at Bluefields under Gen. Cobos.

The Mosquito Indian chief has rejected all overtures, made to him by the Nicaraguans, who are trying to persuade him to submit to their domination. Clarence says he and his followers are determined to die rather than submit.

The Indians are better armed than the Nicaraguans and their numbers increase daily. The Herald's Managua dispatch says that the Nicaraguan troops are already moving upon Bluefields.

Conservation of a Bishop.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.), July 25.—At St. John's Church today Rt. Rev. Thomas S. Byrne, the newly-appointed bishop of the diocese of Nashville, was consecrated with the imposition of hands.

Archbishop Eller of Cincinnati conducted the service and Bishop Rademacher of Port Wayne presided at the consecration.

Deaths from Sunstroke.

BERLIN, July 25.—Tropical heat prevails in this city and many deaths from sunstroke have been reported.

VIENNA, July 25.—The heat here is excessive, and has caused many deaths of prostration. A number of persons have died from sunstroke.

Canadian Corruptionists.

ST. JOHN (N. F.), July 25.—Sir William H. Whitway and Robert Bond, leaders of the late government, were disqualified from the Legislature today for corrupt practices at the election.

A Princess Dead.

VIENNA, July 25.—Princess Henry IV. of Russia died today at Ernst Brun.

A HIDDEN LIFE.

Nelson Beardsley's Millions Will Be Claimed by a Woman.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

AUBURN (N. Y.), July 25.—Nelson Beardsley, president of two local banks and director in all the others, president of the Oswego Starch Factory and many times a millionaire, died on January 15 last.

Simultaneously a widow named Mrs. Laura A. Plutong, living in a less pretentious house, among wife and child and gave evidence of the most poignant grief. She sent floral tributes to the dead millionaire's house and made frequent visits to his grave. Portions of his vast estate were given to numerous relatives, but the bulk of it was left in trust for his six daughters. Nothing had been said in his will of a wife.

A bomb was exploded today which gives color to the woman's story that she intends to fight for a share of the millions. Through her attorneys she has commenced proceedings to nullify the will of her late husband as the lawfully wedded wife of Beardsley in his lifetime, as she had lived with him until the time of his death and claiming one child, Nelson B. Beardsley, survivor of such marriage. Beardsley was 84 years of age at the time of his death. The infant who bears his name in this proceeding is but 2 years old.

Action was also commenced to recover on two notes. The first note is for $10,000, and is now in the widow's possession. The other is for $18,000, which she says were deposited in her private apartment in the safe in Beardsley's bank. That note, she declares, is missing from the box. She brings suit against the executor to recover the value of the two notes and interest.

Her attorney says they will bring proceedings in a few days to recover the sum of $60,000 which she declares is the value of certain securities given her by Beardsley in trust for their infant child, and which are also said to be missing from her private apartment in the bank vault.

The public announced these acts created a sensation today that has never been equalled in the community.

THE CONRAD DIVORCE.

It is Again in Evidence Before the Court at St. Paul.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

ST. PAUL, July 25.—A special to the Pioneer-Press from Helena says that the Conrad divorce case is again before the people. Yesterday Mrs. Mabel B. Conrad filed answer in the application for her husband, John B. Conrad, for divorce.

Conrad is a prominent character, once being Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and a wealthy man. Mrs. Conrad is a daughter of Mrs. Barnard of Providence, R. I., for whose murder Dr. Graves was convicted at Denver, and afterward convicted at St. Paul.

The Conrads gained no little notoriety from their connection with that case. Several months ago Conrad began suit for divorce against his wife, on the ground of adultery and bigamy. He alleged at numerous times with William S. Hopkins, a wealthy lumber man of St. Clair Springs, Mich., Richard Bishop of Denver, and several others, the association of the latter with his wife. Those alleged offenses covered a period of four years, and were said to have been committed in Helena, Denver, Chicago, New York and St. Augustine, Fla.

For reply Mrs. Conrad denies all the charges made by her husband. She also denies the charges alleging many of the names specifically mentioned in the places and persons. Many women whom Conrad is charged with infidelity are servant girls and chambermaids in their own homes and in hotels.

One charge is of infidelity with a certain woman having red hair, whose name and further description are unknown. The offense occurred at their home in Billings during her absence.

ARMOR-PLATES.

Lieut. Stone Testifies Concerning the Quality of the Carnegie Armor.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Lieut. Charles A. Stone, for three years ordnance officer for the Carnegie Company, was a witness in the armor-plate investigation today.

When asked for the results of the recent government trials of the plates, he replied that the test of the first two plates failed by a narrow margin to meet the requirements for obtaining a premium, while the lower halves failed by a wide margin.

In the case of the third plate the top half secured a premium and the bottom half failed. The latter was generally considered the better plate.

The lieutenant had been on the retired list since last December, he said, and had been employed by the Carnegie Company three years, drawing pay from the government and from the Carnegie Company both until he was placed on the retired list.

Chairman Cummings asked: "Did you ever make any reports in other words to anything for the government in that line?"

Only by helping to secure good armor-plates," he replied.

Lieut. Stone was now employed at Bethlehem under the same arrangements.

The lieutenant considered the ballistic test of the only critical one for trying armor-plates, although the physical test was valuable as a guide, taken in connection with the ballistic test. He said that the opinion was gaining ground that nickel-steel armor required no treatment and was as good without the oil tempering process as with it.

A Witness Testifies He was a Debtor to the Wrecked Bank.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—Expert real estate testimony occupied another day of the session in the trial of Bank Cashier Sattley.

William B. Winner, a financier of considerable note, was indebted to the wrecked bank to the extent of $25,000 as the maker and indorser of notes, and he swore that the security back of the indebtedness was worth $29,400 on the day the bank failed. His indebtedness had been appraised as of no value.

N. B. Nutt, receiver of the Republican Valley Bank at Clyde, Kan., testified that the Kansas City Safe Deposit and Savings Bank had $7500 in cash, which was appraised as worthless.

The Kansas City bank also had 144 shares of the stock of the First National Bank of Clyde, Kan., on which it had loaned $14,500. Nutt admitted that the total value of the stock was not more than $3900. The stock of the First National Bank was taken as one of the assets of Sattley's bank.

TWO TERRITORIES.

Arizona and New Mexico to Be Admitted With Utah.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Senate Committee on Territories in ordering reports on the bills for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico has amended them so as to provide for the final admission with representation in Congress the same as Utah.

When the bill for Arizona passed the House it contained a constitution which had already been adopted. The Senate struck out this provision and a new constitution must be adopted. It is understood the bills will not be called up this session in the Senate, but that early in the short session they will be passed.

The Turner Convention.

DENVER, July 25.—The Turner Convention today decided to hold the next convention in 1896 at Louisville, Ky., the date being $40 for the ticket and $10 for the hotel.

The athletic tournament of 1897 will be held at St. Louis, where the executive board headquarters were established for the next year. Protestants were adopted against legislation calculated to keep out desirable immigrants and against introducing religious subjects in schools. Resolutions were adopted expressing sympathy with laborers and favoring government ownership of railroads, telegraph, gasworks and mines.

THE POLE-HUNTERS.

Interviews With People Acquainted With Arctic Travel.

LONDON, July 25.—Dr. Fridtjof, owner of the yacht Sode, which rescued Prof. Oer, ex-governor, on the Wellman Arctic expedition left at Dane's Island, referring to the reported loss of the Wellman party and their steamer, said that he had learned from Spitzbergen that the vessel which was used to convey the Wellman explorers was an old whaler, which had been fitted up as a steamer, and that she was in no way fitted to encounter the ice.

Dr. Fridtjof adds that he is led to believe that in the whole of Wellman's company there was no one possessed of a practical experience in polar explorations.

A representative of the Associated Press has an interview today with Carl Siewers, the Norwegian enthusiast in polar matters, with regard to his letter to the Standard yesterday announcing that he was in the Arctic region, and that he had left him in doubt that the Wellman expedition was lost.

Siewers showed the Associated Press a bundle of letters received Monday last from Arctic sailors who had returned to Norway from the extreme northern seas. The writers said that they were not unlike a party of sailors from the members of the Wellman expedition lost, but that Capt. Nansen's ship was also crushed in the ice.

Siewers believes that the party will return in September, after having sailed on an open polar sea. Peary's and Jackson's expeditions, Siewers declares, were the only ones of all those now out that were scientifically planned.

CAMERA ARTISTS.

Annual Meeting of the Photographers' Association of America.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—At the opening of today's session of the Photographers' Association of America, Henry Hunt Schellinger, who is 77 years old, and who published in St. Louis the first photographic journal ever issued in America, the St. Louis and Canadian Photographers' Journal, was presented to the convention and made an honorary member for life.

After the reading of several papers the association met at noon adjourned, to meet Friday morning to elect officers, etc.

The state prepared by the Nominating Committee, and the members of the association, president; George S. Tschek, second vice-president; J. E. Rook, treasurer; P. McDonald, secretary. The place of holding the next meeting will also be determined at this final meeting.

The contest promises to be between Philadelphia and Denver, though Milwaukee, Detroit and St. Paul are also in the running. The Eastern members are united in support of Philadelphia.

TARNEY'S ASSAILANTS.

Three Men Arrested on Suspicion of Being Implicated in the Case.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

COLORADO CITY (Colo.), July 25.—Detectives from Denver today arrested John Collins, Herman Rader and C. H. McKinnon of Colorado Springs, on suspicion of being implicated in the Tarney case.

They were held in bonds of $5000. Before bonds could be furnished Sheriff Bowers of Colorado Springs demanded the custody of the prisoners and took them to the County Jail. Sheriff Bowers asked by what right the Denver detectives had made arrests in Colorado, and was informed that they had been specially authorized by Gov. Wolfe to act in the Tarney matter.

The Denver detectives swore out a number of warrants, but just how many is not known. It is claimed that of the number for whom warrants have been issued two are women, and of the remainder two are men. It is said that enough evidence has been secured to convict the suspected parties.

THAT COAL COMPANY.

A Monopoly Which Has Been Referred to in Congress.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

BOSTON, July 25.—The Dominion Coal Company, of which Henry M. Whitney, brother of ex-Secretary Whitney, is president, was organized under the laws of Nova Scotia with a capital of $15,000,00

THE DEED OF A FIEND

Bloody Work of ex-Police Officer Craig

Three People Killed and One Badly Wounded.

His Wife and Her Aged Parents the Victims.

A Brother, Also Shot by the Murderer, Was in His Own Home—Details of the Tragedy.

Three blood-spattered bodies lie on the morgue awaiting the coroner's inquest. They are those of William Hunter, his wife, Mrs. Hunter, and daughter Emily. Jack Craig, ex-police officer and a man of vicious habits, is the murderer, and it is due to no lack of effort that suicide was not added to the list of bloody deeds committed by him. Craig shot his wife, Emily, her brother George and her father and mother and then turned the weapon upon himself. Unfortunately, it may be said, no mortal wounds were inflicted in the last instance, as the taxpayer might be saved the expense of providing a trial to such a wretch as Craig has proved himself to be.

The frightful deed was as unprecedented as it was heinous, and had the neighborhood been informed of the true nature of the case, it is doubtful whether Craig would ever have reached the police station alive, for the sake of the friends of the murdered was that a convenient telegraph pole and a rope were the instruments to deal with men of the stripe of the murderous ex-police officer and redneck man.

The story, with such a revolting ending, is not a long one, but it pictures the red-handed life-taker in a career which has been picking it up in the streets. Through all the years the innate meanness and brutality of the central figure has cropped out in more ways than one, and there is little wonder expressed that the man should have met his fate on the gallows, a three-day ordeal, from whom ordinary law-breakers would shrink for fear of contamination.

It was nearly ten years ago that Jack Craig married Emily Hunter. The young woman was the daughter of William Hunter, a man of considerable property and highly respected. The Hunter ranch, which is located near what is known as the three-mile house, on the Los Angeles River, was a landmark then as it is today. Not long after the marriage Mr. Hunter presented his daughter with a small cottage on Buena Vista street, and there she resided afterward with her husband, Craig. It was not long before Emily discovered that she had made a mistake in her marriage, and that she had wedded a man of disreputable ways and fierce temper. Craig was fault-finding, mean in his disposition, and, above all, decidedly brutal. Two children were the result of the union, and for her little ones' sake did the wife and mother endure the taunts and gibes of her ill-natured spouse without complaint.

About five years ago Craig obtained a position on the police force, which position he held until the sweeping changes in the police department of the present administration, when so many names were dropped. Then he went rapidly from bad to worse, and the disgraceful events which led up to yesterday's horrible murder worked fast one upon the other, making home life unbearable for the wife. Some time after his dismissal from the police force Craig was arrested and fined for attempted assault, and upon the trial it was shown that he was in the habit of frequenting low dives and that he had often taken his little son along with him to view the sights of revel and debauchery. These were not without murdering, and a separation of husband and wife occurred a few days ago. As soon as his daughter came back to the ranch, Mr. Hunter took possession of the cottage on Buena Vista street. All of this angered Craig and aroused him to the wanton act of murder. Yesterday Mr. Hunter, his wife and daughter were in the cottage, and the murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

At the cottage on Buena Vista street, the murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the reporter arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

he gone about three hours. Thence he must have gone directly to Lewis and Clark street, where he was subsequently arrested. Craig had been in the neighborhood of the murder about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

AT GEORGE HUNTER'S.

George Hunter, the brother-in-law of the murderer, lives with his family on a ranch in Orange Canyon, about four miles outside the city. Mrs. Craig, wife of the murderer, was the daughter of George Hunter. She and Craig were living with her brother on the ranch for about a month. She and Craig separated two months ago after repeated family quarrels, brought on by the drunken and dissolute habits of her husband. Mrs. Craig was sent to San Francisco by her father and mother, who thought that absence would be the best help for her to forget him. Upon returning four or five weeks ago she went to live with her brother George, as stated above.

It was to George Hunter's ranch, where his wife and three children, the eldest of whom is a girl, that Craig drove after he left George's saloon. He says that his wife was standing upon the veranda when he drove up, and that he asked to see the children, the eldest of whom was a girl, and that she could not let him see the children, but that that man (pointing to her brother George Hunter) would let him see the children. Craig then entered the veranda, where they were both standing, at this juncture, and leveled his pistol at him. Craig then pulled his own pistol, and shot his wife, Emily, in the back of the head. Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm. Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm.

Red-handed from this double murder, yet with the murderer's rage still in his heart, and the murderer's rage still in his heart, Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm. Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, the mother and father of the three children, were the next victims of the drunken frenzy. The old people lived in a pleasant little cottage at No. 72 Buena Vista street, which was a few blocks from the Hunter ranch. Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm. Craig then turned the weapon upon himself, but it did not seem to do any harm.

WHAT NEIGHBORS HEARD.

Two neighbors, Miss Long, the livermore, and Nicholas Stephens, of No. 710 Buena Vista street, heard the shooting. A woman's voice crying "murder," rushed in and saw Craig lying on the steps. He called to them for help, saying that he had been shot, and asking them to take him to the hospital. The neighbors, who thought that he had been shot, and asking them to take him to the hospital. The neighbors, who thought that he had been shot, and asking them to take him to the hospital.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

was afterwards recovered over by a fence opposite to the Holmes cottage and near Diestephano's residence.

Diestephano corroborated Long's statement that the murderer was in the neighborhood of the murder about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE HUNTER FAMILY.

None of those about the neighborhood were able to give the exact ages of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, though both of them must have been sixty years old or more. They had a family of five children, three boys and two girls, all of them grown up and married.

THE SON'S NAME.

The sons' names are Sam, Joe and the eldest George, one of the four victims of the shooting. Craig's wife, the eldest of the daughters, is named Emily. The other daughter's name could not be learned.

It is said that Mrs. Craig was about to leave the house, and that she was in the kitchen when she was shot. Craig was in the kitchen when she was shot. Craig was in the kitchen when she was shot.

CRAG'S RECORD.

Craig was for three years employed as a police officer in this city. About a year ago he was dismissed from the service because of excessive habits and general wickedness. Craig was a man of about 35 years of age, of medium height, and of a dark complexion. He was a man of about 35 years of age, of medium height, and of a dark complexion.

THE REVOLVERS.

Two revolvers were found upon the veranda of the Hunter cottage after the murder. One was a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson, obtained from Lewis & George's saloon at the corner of Ward and Upper Main streets. Five empty cartridges were in the revolver. The other was a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson, probably obtained from John De George, a brother of the saloon-keeper, who keeps a restaurant on Upper Main street opposite Bellevue. John De George admitted that Craig had been in the restaurant at 11 o'clock yesterday morning trying to borrow a revolver, and again at about 1 o'clock, when he was refused. He did not admit that he had lent him the desired weapon. He says further that Craig told him that he was going down to San Pedro on the Hunter cottage after the murder.

THE MURDERER'S WILD STATEMENTS.

When Craig was brought to the police station he was found to be suffering from a bullet wound on the right side of the head, just above and in front of the ear. There was also a slight bruise upon another part of his head, and he was probably shot in the head. Craig was brought to the police station after he was shot. Craig was brought to the police station after he was shot.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

through the front of the house and taken refuge in a corn patch close by, and Teenie finally broke away and ran for dear life. She was shot in the back of the head, and she was shot in the back of the head.

Diestephano corroborated Long's statement that the murderer was in the neighborhood of the murder about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE HUNTER FAMILY.

None of those about the neighborhood were able to give the exact ages of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, though both of them must have been sixty years old or more. They had a family of five children, three boys and two girls, all of them grown up and married.

THE SON'S NAME.

The sons' names are Sam, Joe and the eldest George, one of the four victims of the shooting. Craig's wife, the eldest of the daughters, is named Emily. The other daughter's name could not be learned.

It is said that Mrs. Craig was about to leave the house, and that she was in the kitchen when she was shot. Craig was in the kitchen when she was shot. Craig was in the kitchen when she was shot.

CRAG'S RECORD.

Craig was for three years employed as a police officer in this city. About a year ago he was dismissed from the service because of excessive habits and general wickedness. Craig was a man of about 35 years of age, of medium height, and of a dark complexion. He was a man of about 35 years of age, of medium height, and of a dark complexion.

THE REVOLVERS.

Two revolvers were found upon the veranda of the Hunter cottage after the murder. One was a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson, obtained from Lewis & George's saloon at the corner of Ward and Upper Main streets. Five empty cartridges were in the revolver. The other was a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson, probably obtained from John De George, a brother of the saloon-keeper, who keeps a restaurant on Upper Main street opposite Bellevue. John De George admitted that Craig had been in the restaurant at 11 o'clock yesterday morning trying to borrow a revolver, and again at about 1 o'clock, when he was refused. He did not admit that he had lent him the desired weapon. He says further that Craig told him that he was going down to San Pedro on the Hunter cottage after the murder.

THE MURDERER'S WILD STATEMENTS.

When Craig was brought to the police station he was found to be suffering from a bullet wound on the right side of the head, just above and in front of the ear. There was also a slight bruise upon another part of his head, and he was probably shot in the head. Craig was brought to the police station after he was shot. Craig was brought to the police station after he was shot.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

When the police arrived upon the scene the scene was one of horror. The bodies of the three victims lay on the floor, and the blood was on the floor. The murderer, who had been waiting for the opportunity, entered the cottage, intending to remain overnight. They had left Emily, Craig's wife, at the ranch up the river in the care of her brother George, a young man about 20 years of age, little thinking that his absence would come to them in their absence.

THE BUSINESS

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—There was a somewhat firmer tone in the markets today, especially in that of all descriptions. Recent advices from the interior show that they will be very short and that we shall have to import to supply our wants.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The result of today's trading on the Stock Exchange has been the establishment of a lower range of values in the greater portions of the share market, with the exception of a few favorites. Sugar and Iowa Central preferred, both of which are 1 per cent. higher than at the close of yesterday. The volume of business was light, but was better distributed than usual with Sugar in the lead. St.

NIANEWS

